

March 17 '96.

My Darling Lammie,
I ought to be in slumber land this minute but must just send you a good night line - Had a very bad season this evening and this afternoon has been quidding. Was wrote to invite me over tomorrow afternoon but by the same mail I received word from Malcolm that he would

To over tomorrow afternoon and we are to go out to dinner together. I have also promised to sing for charity tomorrow afternoon at a reception to the working women and the poor of New York. The wealthy people are all going to skew and do as much as possible to give these people pleasure.

I had a letter from Frank Lane this morning inviting me to come up to West Fort Corn and make them a visit.
Don't know whether I shall go or not.

This has been no better day, but shall have no tomorrow no doubt

Darling, I did not send you the proofs of my other pictures because they were so good that I chose to have them all finished - Choice was
I only hope the finishing will not be a dis-affecting mistake - With a tender love from Sam, as I always have been - Yours and Yours only Emma Christine
